ATHLETICS HEALTHSPACE
U.S. COUNCIL FOR ATHLETES' HEALTH

ATHLETICS HEALTHSPACE, the proprietary e-learning platform from the U.S. Council for Athletes' Health (USCAH), houses a growing library of more than 170 courses that can be customized by audience and completed via the website or app. These courses are grouped into specific programs and packages, addressing requirements and best practices around health, safety, and wellness education across all levels of sports.

Powered by MoodleUS, Athletics Healthspace currently has more than 23,000 registered users utilizing health and safety programs, policy development tools, assessments, waivers, and other collaborative functions. USCAH works with its partners to tailor content for the needs of each institution or organization with the option for custom branding elements that ensure your commitment to athlete health and safety is on display every step of the way.
